Paul Feyertag (b. 1985, NYC) is currently finishing his bachelor's degree in music composition at Lawrence University (Appleton, WI). At first a self-taught guitarist, Paul began his formal musical training at the age of 16, studying Jazz Guitar at the Wisconsin Conservatory of Music with Paul Silbergleit.

Paul's music explores the acoustic limitations of western instruments, psychophysiological phenomena, and the exaggeration of faults within compositional processes. His sound is the sound of fresh wool before being manufactured into a warm sweater.

His primary teachers have been Marcos Balter, Joanne Metcalf, John Benson, Matt Turner, and Fred Sturm.
