

luv017
twitches by bone conductors

luvsound records
www.luvsound.org
contact@luvsound.org

release date: february 26th, 2008 <http://www.luvsound.org/release/luv017/>

advance listening mp3s <http://www.luvsound.org/release/luv017/luv017.zip>

press photo
<http://www.luvsound.org/release/luv017/luv017-press-photo.jpg>

tracklisting

- 01 i take that back
- 02 the very tall building
- 03 the decoder
- 04 bermuda
- 05 i don't design
- 06 nowhere, nj
- 07 her approach to art
- 08 the hare march
- 09 the mean and leafy sea
- 10 radiot theme
- 11 gerontology (two summer symphony)

nick yulman of bone conductors is a songwriter, producer and sound artist living in brooklyn, ny. in addition to recording haunted confections, he creates song installations utilizing mechanical musical instruments and singing radios which have been exhibited in new york city. nick lends his guitar work to the band et ret and has recorded music for radio documentaries, video art pieces and bat mitzvahs. 5 out of 7, he works with the national oral history recording project storycorps. See more of his work at nysoundworks.org luvsound records is a non-profit arts collective based in brooklyn new york and new orleans louisiana. our ongoing project attempts to divorce art from commerce, and encourage the free exchange of ideas, culture, and creative work.